Last night, Danny Masterson accuser Chrissie Carnell posted images of a man who was parked in a pickup truck across from her house that she and her husband, At the Drive In rocker Cedric Bixler-Zavala, suspected was a private investigator working for Masterson or the Church of Scientology. She posted photos of the man to Twitter, and said she reported him to the LAPD. She also took videos. We have those videos for you.

"I was in my room answering emails and messages and my phone was acting insane," Chrissie tells us. "It kept flashing. My texts kept scrambling. Texts would vanish then reappear. Cedric finally came in and told me that a guy had been sitting outside our house for over an hour. That's when I went down to take a photo of license plate. That's what [LAPD Detective Javier] Vargas and [LA Assistant District Attorney Reinhold] Mueller always advised me to do. This guy's reaction was insane."

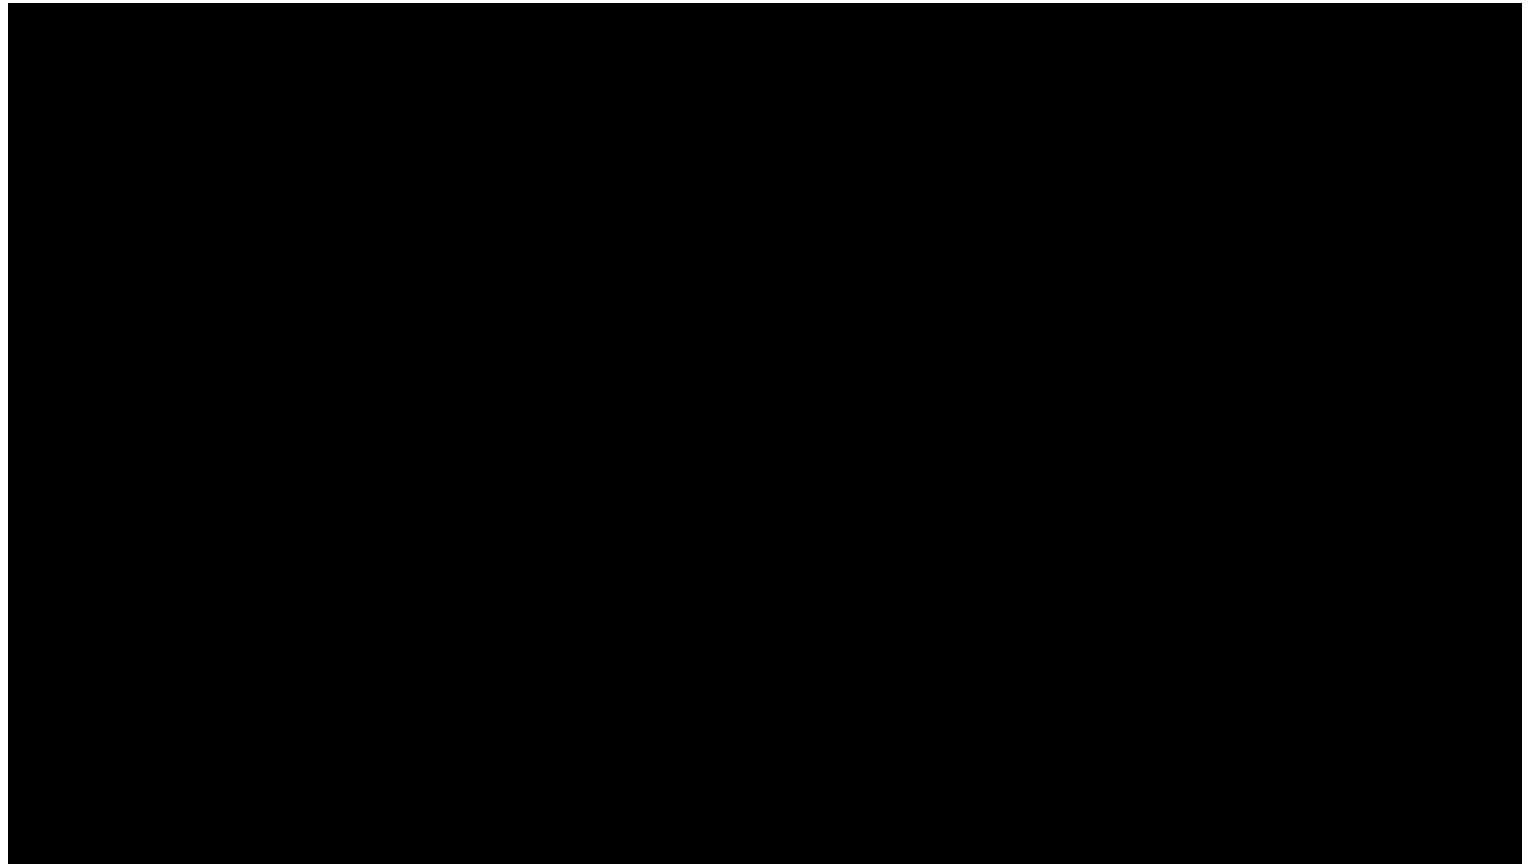

In the video, you can barely make out that the man, whom we have not identified, asks Chrissie if he's filming her and then calls her a "bitch."

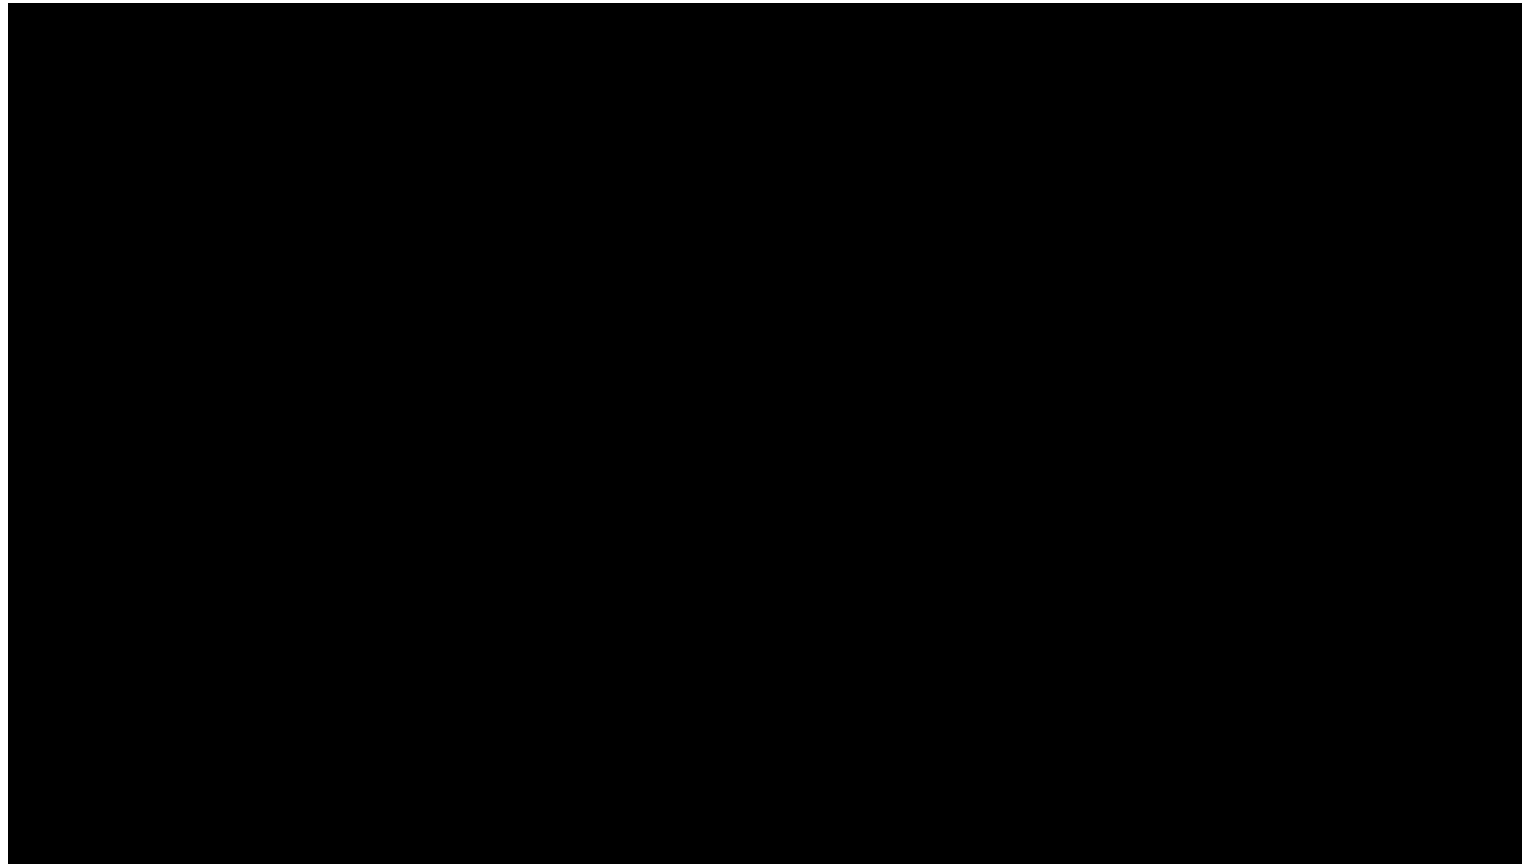

"It just shocked me," Chrissie says. She says that Cedric also joined her, and in the next video, you can see that the man's reaction is to spit his gum at Chrissie.

"Cedric ran down and all my neighbors rushed over. They told him to leave. They all said they had never seen him before," she says. "Cedric ran over when he saw him spit on me. The guy said to Cedric, 'come here, enemy'.

"At that point I went into a panic attack and I don't even know what he was saying or what anyone was saying," she says.

The man taunted the couple as they said they were calling the police. In the third video, you can see that he has a laptop in the cab with him as well as his phone.

After Chrissie called 911, the man drove away. She says they waited some 45 minutes for LAPD officers to arrive.

"We had to give the backstory and one officer became really aggressive and said he's not filing a report. His superior came down because I threatened to report him. The superior came and saw the videos and confirmed instantly that his equipment in his truck was hacking shit." Eventually, the police did take an assault and stalking report because of the spitting, and took a copy of the photo Chrissie took of the man's license plate.

We've written at length about the strange activity that Chrissie and Cedric have been subjected to since she came forward as one of four women accusing Danny Masterson of rape. In Austin, their family dog was killed in suspicious circumstances, which was one of the reasons they chose to move to Los Angeles.

Chrissie first reported her allegations to police in the fall of 2016, and three other women also came forward to report being violently raped by Masterson. The district attorney's office received the investigation from the LAPD in April 2017, but so far there is still no word from the agency about whether it intends to charge the Scientologist actor.

Brian J. Sheen • 1 day ago

Today was meant to be a special celebration of my grandson Leo's first birthday. Sadly, I have never met Leo as his mother has been forbidden to see or speak to me for the past 3 1/2 years because of the cult of Scientology's disconnection policy that demands I join their group and pay them $350,000 to prove I am worthy. My family's life has been held hostage by this destructive cult that hides behind a false attestation of being a "religion" that gives them the ability to violate my constitutional rights. Our attorney general Pam Bondi refuses to do anything to protect my rights as she is in the deep pockets of this cult and our Civil Right Commission is afraid to do their job as they can't afford to face the legion of attorneys Scientology uses to tie anyone up in court for decades. Worse yet is our tax dollars are used to finance this cult as they have tax exemption too.

I will never give up spreading this truth so other families may be spared this atrocity. I am relentless in sharing this message with the hope some politician will say NO More and remove this sham religion from the protections they receive and make them responsible for their crimes. My first video on the subject tells the story more. Please share it so others know this truth and other families are not ripped apart as mine was.

Brian J. Sheen • 1 day ago

Yes..good idea! Thanks

Geoff Levin • 1 day ago

Brian there are many of us who have similar issues. I have two children who have disconnected from me. It's only a matter of time till Scientology can no longer withstand the truth that brands them as the toxic and fraudulent organization that they are. They cannot change. That means they will be left in the dust and abandoned.

I've seen that lowlife in the white truck before. As far as I know he's not a PI, but from OSA and he is a Scientologist. I will send Tony the name of someone who can run those plates and get his info...providing it's his truck and not borrowed or the plates weren't 'switched'. The goal for him is to harass and intimidate...to cause psychological upset and an emotional reaction. A licensed professional Investigator does not 'hack' nor harass and avoids upsetting a target. If they are PIs who participate in those types of things they are dirty corrupt PI's and possibly not licensed. Contact the DOL and report them with this photograph, also check with the local Assoc. of licensed investigators in LA and report them.

Moving to LA is like moving right into the frying pan with the heat turned up to 'high'. Get out of California Chrissie...better in a small mountain or coastal town where these scum are noticeable and not tolerated. LA is Scientology's west coast 'Mecca' and the LAPD & LASD have long been safe pointed & corrupted by them. The FBI in LA aren't helpful either...seek law enforcement outside LA. Federal gov agencies in field offices and headquarters elsewhere.

Once\_Born • 1 day ago

He does look as if he's having far too much ideological 'fun' to be a mercenary, and calling someone an 'enemy' - which is an odd choice of word unless you are a Scientologist - is telling.

FredEX2 • 1 day ago

However Once_Born, I watched the videos again and this scumbag isn't as confident as he tries to appear. Seems a bit nervous to me. A total Scientology tool and 1.1 on their tone scale. He's an idiot.

Once\_Born • 1 day ago

There's always going to be a tension when someone has to apply Scientology to the real world. However, once he's back in the bubble, being congratulated by his 'comrades on his 'powerful action', that will all be forgotten.

And if it had all gone pear-shaped, there would have been more idiots where he came from.

FredEX2 • 1 day ago

Yep. They are play acting out their big pretend 'war' with the supposed 'SP's' and imagined 'enemies'. A war THEY created themselves...that exists in their minds. It's very real to them. SO freaking delusional.

Once\_Born • 1 day ago

And, sadly, both motivating and distracting.

Some of the sad characters who played at war have written books, years after they have left Scientology - for example, the creepy "Arrows in the Dark" and, of course, Marty's "Memoirs of a Scientology Warrior".

I suppose it supplied them with an 'important mission' and accompanying self-esteem that they could find nowhere else, because their aspirations were so much greater than their actual ability.

Cat W. • 1 day ago

Yeah, this is the measure of Scientology as a religion: they go out of their way to harass and intimidate those victims of a Scientologist serial rapist who dare to seek some justice. I do hope more and more people notice. I hope that episode of the Aftermath comes to light some day, too.

Once\_Born • 22 hours ago

And they believe that they are virtuous and should be admired for 'serving in the front line' This can only make them

VIDEO: Danny Masterson accuser confronts 'stalker' outside her Los Angeles home « The Underground Bunker
 And they believe that they are virtuous and should be admired for serving in the front line. This can only make them look very bad indeed. As long as this is mercilessly publicised it will remain a large part of the reason why recruitment has collapsed.

Sadly, I think this is the single thing that will end Scientology. As long as Miscavige lives, or is in power, membership will continue to decline. The moment he dies, or is deposed, this religion without parishoners will tear itself apart in a struggle for money and power.

Keeping the spotlight on them makes that dissolution more certain and saves people who might otherwise have joined.

FredEX2 • 1 day ago

Bingo

bones • 1 day ago

That's the first thing that stood out to me. His use of the word "enemy". They truly can't help themselves, can they? They use Scientology terms even in the "Wog" world. Their wacky terminology gives them away.

Once\_Born • 22 hours ago

An if that doesn't do it, their grammar and the way they inevitably channel Hubbard's awful 'style' having had to read so much of his nonsense.

Even online and 'undercover', they generally stand out like a sore thumb.

Trashton Porter • 1 day ago

IKR? A crummy misd. assault would be worth bashing his face in....Back in the day, a blanket over the head and a bat was rarely prosecuted if "victim harasser" can't ID the Batman! ;)

Jens TINGLEFF • 1 day ago

But it would be insane for the criminal organisation known as the "church" of Scientology to send one of their members to "noisily investigate" when interference in the course of justice is one of the hot topics of this whole sorry mess.

Oh.

Carry on, OSA :-)

Pia Pill • 1 day ago

Christie & her family need to consider moving to the area where Ron Miscavige moved! Their police have the proper attitude in protecting the citizens. Totally agree with you (and was even wondering why they moved back to LA and the "lion's den" where the police look away to Scientology's abuses)! Really suggest they move but also contact other authorities in California (maybe Congressional Reps or other Governmental Offices that have not been corrupted by Co$)!

Good luck; this individual seemed TOO BRAZEN to be just a PI; with his attitude it seems as if he knew he would be "protected" under the "Shield of the Police"! Not sure if reporting this individual AND the local police department AND Prosecutor's office to the Federal jurisdiction would help but it couldn't hurt and since it appears the person was using electronic equipment that HAD TO USE THE INTERNET to do his "dirty work", maybe the feds can get involved since using the Internet may have "crossed state lines" by virtue of how the Internet works through the fiberoptics network etc (reaching here but I would check it out) plus I would imagine that if the authorities can trace this back to Scientology (who the guy is and where his employment is and where his payroll is recorded at) ... maybe it is another "data point" in the future decline of the Co$!

Good luck!

RK • 6 hours ago

They could move to Northern CA, which is very different than L. A.

Mat Pesch • 1 day ago

The guy is paid to upset and intimidate you. You did the right thing by calmly recording the incident and filing a police report. If he should show up again you have already established cause to call the police. I suspect that Scientology/Danny will change up the PI they use next. My wife and I had teams of these guys overtly on us 24/7 for over a year. It didn't matter what side of the country we were on. It's a bit creepy but they are just there to try to upset you. They scatter like roaches if you call the police. Don't back down. If anything, double down on exposing these criminals. Write a book, talk to media, talk to groups in L.A. that protect and stand up for women. Speak to the same groups Scientology tries to peddle their "Human Rights" and "Way To Happiness" bullshit to.

BadBilly • 1 day ago

Is it possible to bypass the LAPD and get the county Sheriff's Dept involved? Are there any State level agencies like the California DOJ that may be able to help? CA DOJ is the largest and most active DOJ/Attorney Generals Office of any State in the country.

Additionally, you should contact an independent home & cyber 'security consultant to analyze your home and the "air" around it. Come up with a comprehensive security plan to protect you, your loved ones, your home and any networks you use in and around your home. I'm sure this will be very costly so I pledge the first $100 of a gofundme campaign.

No one should feel fear or anxiety just living in their home. Especially one where they recently moved into while escaping harassment from the exact same organization.

Puget Buckeye • 1 day ago

If I was a betting person, I would bet that this PI is identified by someone in the Bunker very shortly. We have some very smart and resourceful people here. No one harasses a FOB (Friend of the Bunker) and gets away with it.

Just Hummin' Along • 1 day ago

Ultra white guy wearing an ultra white t-shirt in an ultra white truck sitting in the open in broad day light. Not one of Scientology's best or brightest spies. Takes a very nice photo so yes someone should show up here eventually to put a name to the face.

Liberated • 1 day ago

Why doesn't this guy join a bowling league like normal guys his age?

Just Hummin' Along • 1 day ago

Because bowling leagues have standards. Scientologists don't pass the smell test.

Liberated • 1 day ago

You do have a point.

Liberated • 1 day ago

Now, we all know if someone is harassing you, and immediately gives you the finger - rest assured it's a scientologist, such class and grace.

Wonder if he knows Krusty - in fact, I think that's a great idea, they could hang-out and teach one another crude, vulgar, gestures, and insults.

They both seem pretty lonely, might keep them off the streets...wink wink! ;-)

John Prince • 1 day ago

I bet he's no PI at all , either that or the Stupidest one who ever lived..

Meanwhile Danny Masterson continues his life, unimpeded.
The Church of the Goddamn Cover Up.

His wife had to get a kidney transplant.
Danny needs a brain transplant and a heart transplant.

<https://uploads.disquscdn.c...>

The loss of evidence by the LAPD was already a signal that something is truly rotten in Denmark.
This is but the latest in an appalling saga.
It seems remarkable to me that someone as wealthy and powerful as Weinstein or Cosby could fall from grace but this arrogant thickening middle-aged ill-spoken nonentity skates.

Chrissie, I hope you get justice.
Unfortunately, it seems the FBI will have to replace the LAPD for that to happen.

Harpoona Frittata • 1 day ago

The only skating that Pornstache Donkey Masterson is doing these days is on very thin ice.

It would be true justice to see this Cosby-wannabee charged with multiple counts of violent rape with drugging, put on trial, convicted and sent off for some extended R&R, courtesy of the state penal system, But even if the LADA decides not to pursue criminal charges against him, for whatever reasons, he's still going to be sued in civil court by all of his victims, where the burden of proof which has to be met is quite a bit lower than in criminal court.

VIDEO: Danny Masterson accuser confronts 'stalker' outside her Los Angeles home « The Underground Bunker
 Plus, Donkey's acting career is pretty much over and I'm sure his fave killer cult is none to happy with him either. So, all in all, Donkey isn't one helluva mess, no matter which way the worm turns here.

Will the cult toss Donkey under the bus in order to preserve its own mangy hide, or are certain cult officials already so deeply enmeshed and complicit in tampering with witnesses, obstructing justice and targeting the victims that if he goes down, they're going down with him?

"this arrogant thickening middle-aged ill-spoken nonentity"...oh yeah, I like it.

PickAnotherID • 1 day ago

"We had to give the backstory and one officer became really aggressive and said he's not filing a report. His superior came down because I threatened to report him. The superior came and saw the videos and confirmed instantly that his equipment in his truck was hacking shit." Eventually, the police did take an assault and stalking report because of the spitting, and took a copy of the photo Chrissie took of the man's license plate.

This is just wrong, on so many levels. Why would an LAPD officer get aggressive with a complainant that has video of a stalker? Why was a complaint taken just for the spitting, when hacking is illegal at the state and Federal level? Speaking of which, if the supervisor recognized the equipment as "hacking shit", and Chrissie's phone was going 'insane' when she was checking messages and e-mails, maybe it's time for a Federal complaint. Even a PI with a legitimate investigation is not allowed to hack internet activity. And this sounds like anything but a legitimate investigation.
